New Hope Introduces Three New Board Members

New Hope is proud to announce three new members of our Board of Directors: Rose Buckley, Senior VP- Commercial Lending, Rockland Trust; James Ferrara, Chief Human Resource Officer, Bristol County Savings Bank, and Michael Scipione, Chief Executive Advisor, Weston and Sampson.

Rose Buckley

As a commercial lender, Ms. Buckley has extensive experience in financial systems. She also is an active supporter of local communities, volunteering at the Franklin Food Pantry, serving on the Board of Incorporators of Milford Regional Hospital and the Board of Directors of the Greater Milford Area Chamber of Commerce.

James Ferrara

Mr. Ferrara brings a diversified Human Resources background, both in the financial and health care sector. He is currently employed at Bristol County Savings Bank as their Chief Human Resources Officer. Mr. Ferrara also volunteers his time both in his local faith community and at the University of Rhode Island.

Michael Scipione

Trained as an engineer, today Mr. Scipione is a strategic leader in the engineering and construction sector. For more than 35 years, he has served in various management and leadership roles at Weston & Sampson. During his leadership tenure, the company has transitioned and grown from a local firm to an East Coast regional firm of more than 725 employees.
